R SYSTEMS

Developed cognitive RPA bot to reduce manual efforts

R Systems empowers a global financial service provider with an innovative cognitive RPA solution, streamlining mortgage operations and reducing manual efforts.

OUR SUCCESSES
Financial Services

This global financial services provider wanted an advanced solution to digitize its mortgage and loan operations. Receiving hundreds of mortgage and loan requests in different formats every day, its staff spent was spending too much time collecting old data, calling customers, messaging latest interest rates, and emailing eligibility criteria and loan offers based on the latest government criteria. R Systems' RPA experts developed a cognitive RPA bot to reduce manual efforts.

Results:

58%
increase in loan processing capability

100%
accuracy level

81%
increase in overall productivity
